NASJAX DIVE CLUB NEWSLETTER

The February Dive Club Meeting had a good turnout. It was good to see Bryan Follis and Laura Childs again. Also, good to see Mark Vogel back for his second meeting. I want to welcome our newest visitor, Kathy Tufano. She'll try to get her husband, schedule permitting, and son to return with her in March. Looking at who's paid their club membership dues, our club membership is doing good and climbing.

Dive club members approved the revisions to the club's Constitution and By-Laws. I made the changes and sent them out last night. All club documents have been updated and there shouldn't be very many future changes.

Upcoming Events

Club members discussed doing a spring dive followed by a cookout like we did two years ago. There's a possibility we could tie it in with a shoreline cleanup for Earth Day, which is 22 April.

Also, mark your calendars for 5 April. Hal Watts has tentatively said he'll speak to our dive club at the April club meeting. Hal held the world's deepest dive record using regular air for years. His daughter held the female record. He should have some great stories.

Our Executive Board meeting will be at the Mandarin Bob Evans Restaurant at 6:30 p.m., 15 February.

Last of all, Mark Vogel will be diving Little Cayman Island this summer. I'll be forwarding his email soon that contains hotel and dive information.
